Grace DuMelle is a professional researcher and serves on the genealogical reference staff at the Newberry Library in Chicago. She is the author of "Finding Your Chicago Ancestors: A Beginner's Guide to Family History Research in the City and Cook County."

Saturday, August 25, 2012
Headquarters Auditorium
1640 S. Lindbergh Blvd.

Doors open 9:00 a.m. Program begins 9:30 a.m.

9:30 – 10:30 a.m.

■ Unlocking the Doors to Your Home's Past

Satisfy your curiosity about your own home or one in the family. Learn techniques for dating a residence, discovering the architect, and unearthing old photos and plans. You can also find out who lived there, what they did for a living, and other fascinating tidbits.

11 a.m. – Noon

■ Tools to Dig Deeper: Probate and Inquest Records

It's worth looking for a probate case even if you think your ancestor didn't have money. You can find relatives you didn't know existed, a listing of property and furnishings, and bills from service providers. When you see a coroner's signature on a death certificate, or have a newspaper account of an accident, obtain the inquest to open a fascinating window on the circumstances of the death.

Program sites are accessible. Upon two weeks' notice, accommodations will be made for persons with disabilities. Call 314 / 994-3300.

MICROFILM GEMS

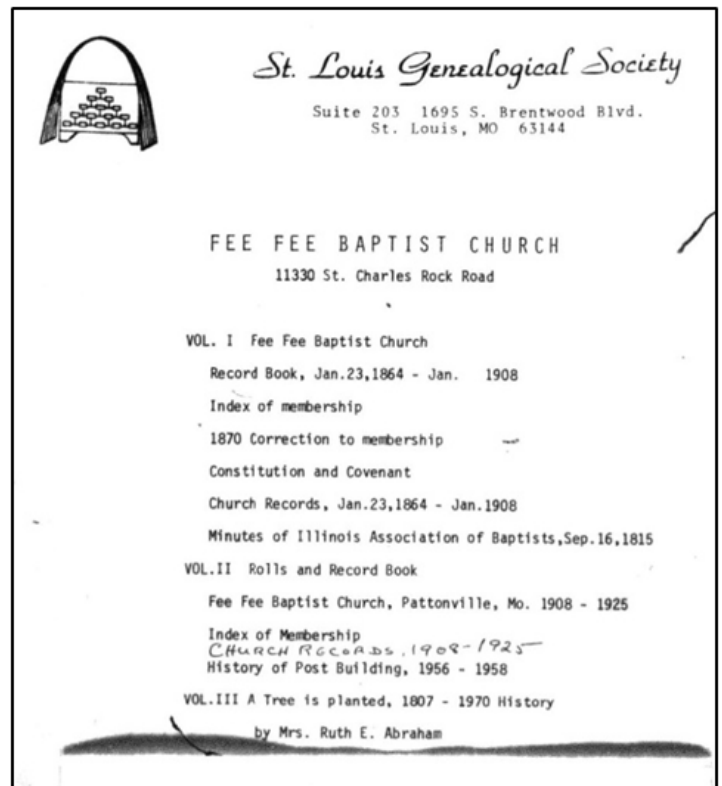

Fee Fee Baptist Church Records

The oldest surviving Baptist Church west of the Mississippi River, this St. Louis County congregation is currently located at 11330 Saint Charles Rock Road in Bridgeton. Founded in 1807, the congregation lost its earliest records to fire. Although the inside of the front cover of the filmed book is dated March 15, 1865, the earliest existing records date back to January 23, 1864. Fee Fee Baptist Church records for 1864–1925 are on a single roll of microfilm, FFBC-1 (formerly StLGS film no. 228) in Film Drawer 5 in Special Collections Department.

Navigation

The St. Louis Genealogical Society members who filmed these records used the summary outline of the materials (shown at right) to help orient the researcher as to the location within the records. This summary divides the contents into three sections:

- Vol. I – Fee Fee Baptist Church
- Vol. II – Rolls and Record Book
- Vol. III – "A Tree is planted," 1897–1970, History

Roll list provided by the St. Louis Genealogical Society, which filmed the records.

A blank sheet of paper, positioned across the page and progressively moved down to reveal each new group of records next on the film, helps orient the researcher. A detailed descriptive roll list for the film on page 11 provides an in-depth analysis of the film's contents. Having a copy of the descriptive roll list at hand will help researchers keep track of their location within the film.

Contents

No index exists for the church records, but browsing the records may result in finding ancestors. Person, place, and time are key elements of research, and these records readily supply such information. Names of members, sometimes separated by males and females, appear frequently. Beginning in 1884, the lists have the names divided alphabetically by first letter of the last name and include columns for "when received" and "dismissed." The dismissed column occasionally lists a person's death date.

For those interested in records relating to the religious life of the congregation, the film includes Articles of Faith, Rules of Decorum, Constitution, Declaration of Faith, and Church Covenant. While these

DIVIDER SHEET HIGHLIGHTING “VOLUME III – AS TREE IS PLANTED”

- “‘As a Tree Planted:’ History of Fee Fee Baptist Church, 1807 – 1970”

Members transferring their membership to Fee Fee Baptist Church commonly presented letters of dismissal from their previous congregations.

documents do not provide names, they do explain the religious beliefs that gave the congregation direction and held it together.

The film also includes minutes, which provide an on-going glimpse of the development of the congregation. They also sometimes include requests for letters of dismissal and records of members received.

Anniversary celebrations play an important role in any church. Fee Fee Baptist Church records include documents with names of delegates attending an anniversary on 17 May 1905 and the register for a centennial celebration on 17 Oct 1907. The attendees often listed their post office or house address and included some out-of-town visitors.

Further in the film appear letters of dismissal and notifications of receipt, which document migration of church members. Although many letters came from Missouri towns and cities, some came from out of state.

A history of the Fee Baptist Church, "As a Tree Planted," appears at the end of the film, but is difficult to read. A print copy is available in the Special Collections Department at R 977.865 A159A. An index to this is included in the Special Collections Department's online Local History Index <<http://www.slcl.org/content/local-history-index>>. Entries related to the book are designated with the source code REL BAPT-001. Limit search results to just this book by selecting the yellow "site" tab at the top of each SLCL webpage and entering the code REL BAPT-001 and the name you want to search. The online index applies only to the published book "As a Tree Planted" and does not include the original records discussed here.

Burials of church members in Fee Fee Cemetery do not appear on this film, but are included in printed indexes and on a CD-ROM in the Special Collections Department (see "Supporting Sources" below). Located on the land around the original church building, Fee Fee Cemetery also includes burials from Mizpah Presbyterian Church and Bridgeton Methodist Episcopal Church South.

■ uencounter.me <<http://www.uencounter.me/>> | uencounter me is a virtual personal map you can create and share with select people or the world. The website has recently added a genealogical component allowing users to select and label map “pins” with genealogical information. For instance, one can create a map showing an ancestral family’s trek across the country as it followed the frontier west. An account is free, but paying the minimal yearly fee eliminates ads from your map.

■ 1910 and 1920 U.S. Census Soundexes <<http://archive.org/index.php>> | Although all available census records have been digitized, the Soundex remains a useful tool for finding names that are commonly misspelled. Formerly only available on microfilm, the 1910 and 1920 Soundexes been digitized and placed on the Internet Archives website. Images are organized by state, then by Soundex code, then by first name. Finding the correct Soundex film on the website can be a challenge, but searching on the state, the Soundex code, and the census year works. Use Rootsweb’s useful online Soundex converter <<http://resources.rootsweb.ancestry.com/cgi-bin/soundexconverter>> to find the code.

■ U.S. Consular Registration Applications, 1916–1925 | Consisting of applications of U. S. citizens to stay in a foreign country for an extended period of time, this database includes information on the applications such as name of registrant; consulate at which he registered; date and place of birth; general travel data; names and places of birth and residence of spouse and children; and registrant's current place of residence.

■ War of 1812 Pension Application Files Index, 1812–1815 | An index to War of 1812 pension application files relating to claims of military service between 1812 and 1815. Most of the applications were filed as a result of acts instated in 1871 and 1878. These acts made it possible for veterans and their survivors to receive pensions based on service alone. Earlier acts provided pensions only for service-related deaths or disabilities. The following information is generally provided: name of veteran; name of widow, if she applied; pension claim or file number(s); and service type or organization.

■ 1770–1790 Census of the Cumberland Settlements | The Cumberland Settlements Censuses are census substitutes identifying as many families as possible in the western North Carolina settlements along the Cumberland River near many trails of western expansion. Originally, this area was encompassed all the area between the western slopes of the Cumberland Mountains to the Tennessee and Duck Rivers. Information in the database was assembled from a variety of documents.

Ancestry Library Edition can be used for free in the Special Collections Department and any St. Louis County Library branch.

FEATURED ACQUISITION

By NiNi Harris & Esley Hamilton

St. Louis: Reedy Press, 2012; 164 pages

R 977.866 H3132

St. Louis City and County possess an amazing number and variety of parks, from humble neighborhood pocket parks to the nationally renowned Forest Park that draws thousands of out-of-town visitors every year. Well-known local historians NiNi Harris and Esley Hamilton highlight these urban assets in their new book, "St. Louis Parks." An introduction by Missouri Botanical Garden Present Emeritus Peter Raven provides an overview of the development of the city and county parks, emphasizing the recurrent commitment that government and citizens have made to developing and maintaining these oases. The authors have presented the parks in chronological order, which gives the reader a sense of how the parks have been created and developed as vision and needs have changed over time. Each entry gives a brief history of the park and the features that make it unique. City and county parks are treated together in separate sections of the book, which also includes a bibliography.
